REQUESTS
The Alliance of Specialty Medicine urges members of Congress to cosponsor and advance the bipartisan Resident Physician Shortage Reduction Act (S. 834/H.R. 2256) and H.R. 944, bipartisan legislation to expand access to care in rural areas. S. 834 was introduced in the Senate by Senators Bob Menendez (D-NJ), John Boozman (R-AR), and Chuck Schumer (D-NY). H.R. 2256 was introduced in the House by Representatives Terri Sewell (D-AL), John Katko (R-NY), Tom Suozzi (D-NY), and Rodney Davis (R-IL). H.R. 944 was introduced by Representatives David McKinley (R-WV) and Peter Welch (D-VT).

BILL SUMMARIES
To address the physician workforce shortages in many specialties that will jeopardize access to care, the Resident Physician Shortage Reduction Act (S. 834/H.R. 2256) will improve the nation’s Graduate Medical Education (GME) system and help to preserve access to specialty care by:

- Increasing Medicare-supported GME residency slots by 14,000 over the next seven years;
- Specifying priorities for distributing the new slots (e.g., states with new medical schools); and
- Studying strategies to increase the diversity of the health professional workforce.

H.R. 944 would authorize a loan repayment program to encourage specialty medicine physicians to serve in rural communities where there is a shortage of specialists.

BACKGROUND
The Alliance thanks Congress for taking the first step to address this issue by approving 1,000 new Medicare-supported GME slots in the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2021 (P.L. 116-260). However, according to the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC), the United States will face an overall shortage of up to 139,000 physicians by 2033. While the Alliance acknowledges the need to increase the number of available primary care providers, we note that specialty shortages will be particularly large, including neurosurgeons, urologists, cardiologists, gastroenterologists, plastic and reconstructive surgeons, orthopaedic surgeons, and general surgeons. Given the increased demand created for their services by an aging population and expanded insurance coverage, we need to take steps now to ensure a fully trained specialty physician workforce for the future. This legislation will begin to help improve the acute shortage of specialty physicians.
